

Hendra Holiday Park. Award-winning campground in south-western England, about 80 miles from Plymouth, Hendra offers top-class facilities that make it an ideal campsite both for families and for children, for trekking and exploration lovers and for those who simply want to relax and do nothing. Thanks to its location at the center of Cornwall you can visit many beautiful places and one of Europe's most spectacular beaches.

<http://www.hendra-holidays.com>

Brakes Coppice Park. A few miles from Hastings, in the Sussex region, this campsite is located in the heart of a beautiful valley in 1066 Country and is surrounded by 15 acres of private woods. The Brakes Coppice Park is suitable for all types of camping, it can host tents, caravans and motorhomes (pitches are equipped with electricity). Nearby there are many attractions to be visited with relaxing walks.

<http://www.brakescoppicepark.co.uk>

Aberlour Gardens Caravan Park. This is located near the northern coast of Scotland, about 80 miles from Inverness. This camping is located within a Victorian garden, where you can see squirrels and buzzards, and close to the River Spey whose banks may be covered on foot or by bike... or you can stand on its banks, and concentrate on fishing salmon. The Aberlour Gardens is located at the center of Whiskey Trail and nearby there are many distilleries that offer the possibility of guided tours.

<http://www.aberlourgardens.co.uk>

Linwater Caravan Park. Located in the countryside in the west of Edinburgh, this camp is designed for tourists equipped with caravans, campervans or tents, and also offers the possibility of staying in the characteristic "Timbertents", tents made of wood, isolated and comfortable, for those who do not want spend time putting up their own tent. Besides being close to the capital, from Linwater you can easily reach the Edinburgh International Climbing Area for climbing fans, the beautiful Linlithgow Palace, birthplace of Mary Queen of Scots in 1542 and more.

<http://www.linwater.co.uk>